Blockchain, Smart Contracts, Crypto and Web 3.0 For Business Lawyers -- Understanding the Technology and Key Legal Issues Bradford Newman

This showcase program is designed for business lawyers, litigators, and jurists, and is intended to enhance the industry knowledge of both seasoned blockchain experts and those focused on increasing their understanding of the industry and its legal landscape. Our expert panel, which includes a New York Supreme Court Justice, an expert practitioner, and an industry expert formerly with The Fed, will delve into the key business strategies and litigation risks that organizations face as they embrace these new blockchain, smart contract, crypto and Web 3.0 technologies in various use case scenarios.
